Emphasizing a Particular Area of the Law. The J.D. program is designed to provide a general background in law. The law school curriculum is broad enough that students may, through their choice of electives, emphasize a particular area of the law. These areas include the following: Administrative Law, Commercial Law, Criminal Law, Environmental and Natural Resource Planning, International Law, Judicial Administration and Procedure, Litigation, Property and Estate Planning, Public Interest Law, and Tax Law.